Servants In The Making

1985 Oasis

Do not only look out for your own interests, but also for the interests of others. Have in yourself the same attitude that Jesus had: although He always existed as God, He did not regard His divine status a thing to be grasped. He emptied Himself, taking on the form of a servant — the appearance of a man. And He humbled Himself by becoming obedient to His call, to death on a cross. (Philippians 2:4-8)

To those who have decided to follow Him, Jesus said, "When you do what I've told you to do, say, 'We are now servants, we have done what we ought to have done.'" There is no doubt: the task and goal of the people who desire a relationship with God is clear, yet we so often fail.

We came together in September, when the weather was just beginning to move away from Summer. Most of us came to learn more about how to succeed in the fields we've chosen for our future. This is expected at a college. NNC, however, is not a typical college. We're here as students, of course, but also because of one of the things that makes NNC distinctive: This is a Christian college.

We're here to become educated. We're here, also, to live in the love of God, and express His love through our lives. As we move toward fulfilling our Major requirements, getting in enough credits, and pushing toward graduation, we are at the same time given a more compelling area of work to fulfill — to make our lives fully what God dreams for us to be.

We are —

Servants in the Making.

These four words comprise the concept of life at NNC. The officers of ASNNC have decided to dedicate their lives to this idea, and they have determined that it should be the theme of our school.

Through the ideas contained in these words, each student at NNC has been encouraged to live as fully as possible according to God's dream. Academic programs, special activities, community involvement and faculty members are all eligible to be — and must be — Servants in the Making.

Jesus knows us so well. Because of this or despite it, He also loves us so much. He realizes our frailty, or inability to be perfect every moment — in the mornings as we walk to class by memory rather than consciousness; during classes, tests, and working on our papers; doing what resembles eating in SAGA; doing (or pretending to do) homework, and getting to bed at the decent hour of somewhere about dawn during finals. No one ever said (or no one sane, anyway) that being a real-life college student would be problem-free.

But Jesus knows our potential — more than we do ourselves. He knows, even when we can't imagine it, that as long as we live, each moment holds the promise of drawing us closer to the place of honor in God's consideration: The place of being a Servant. There's no room for pretending to become a servant, or for trying to serve a system of values. God's intentions are for us to serve Him and everyone else who you come in contact with.

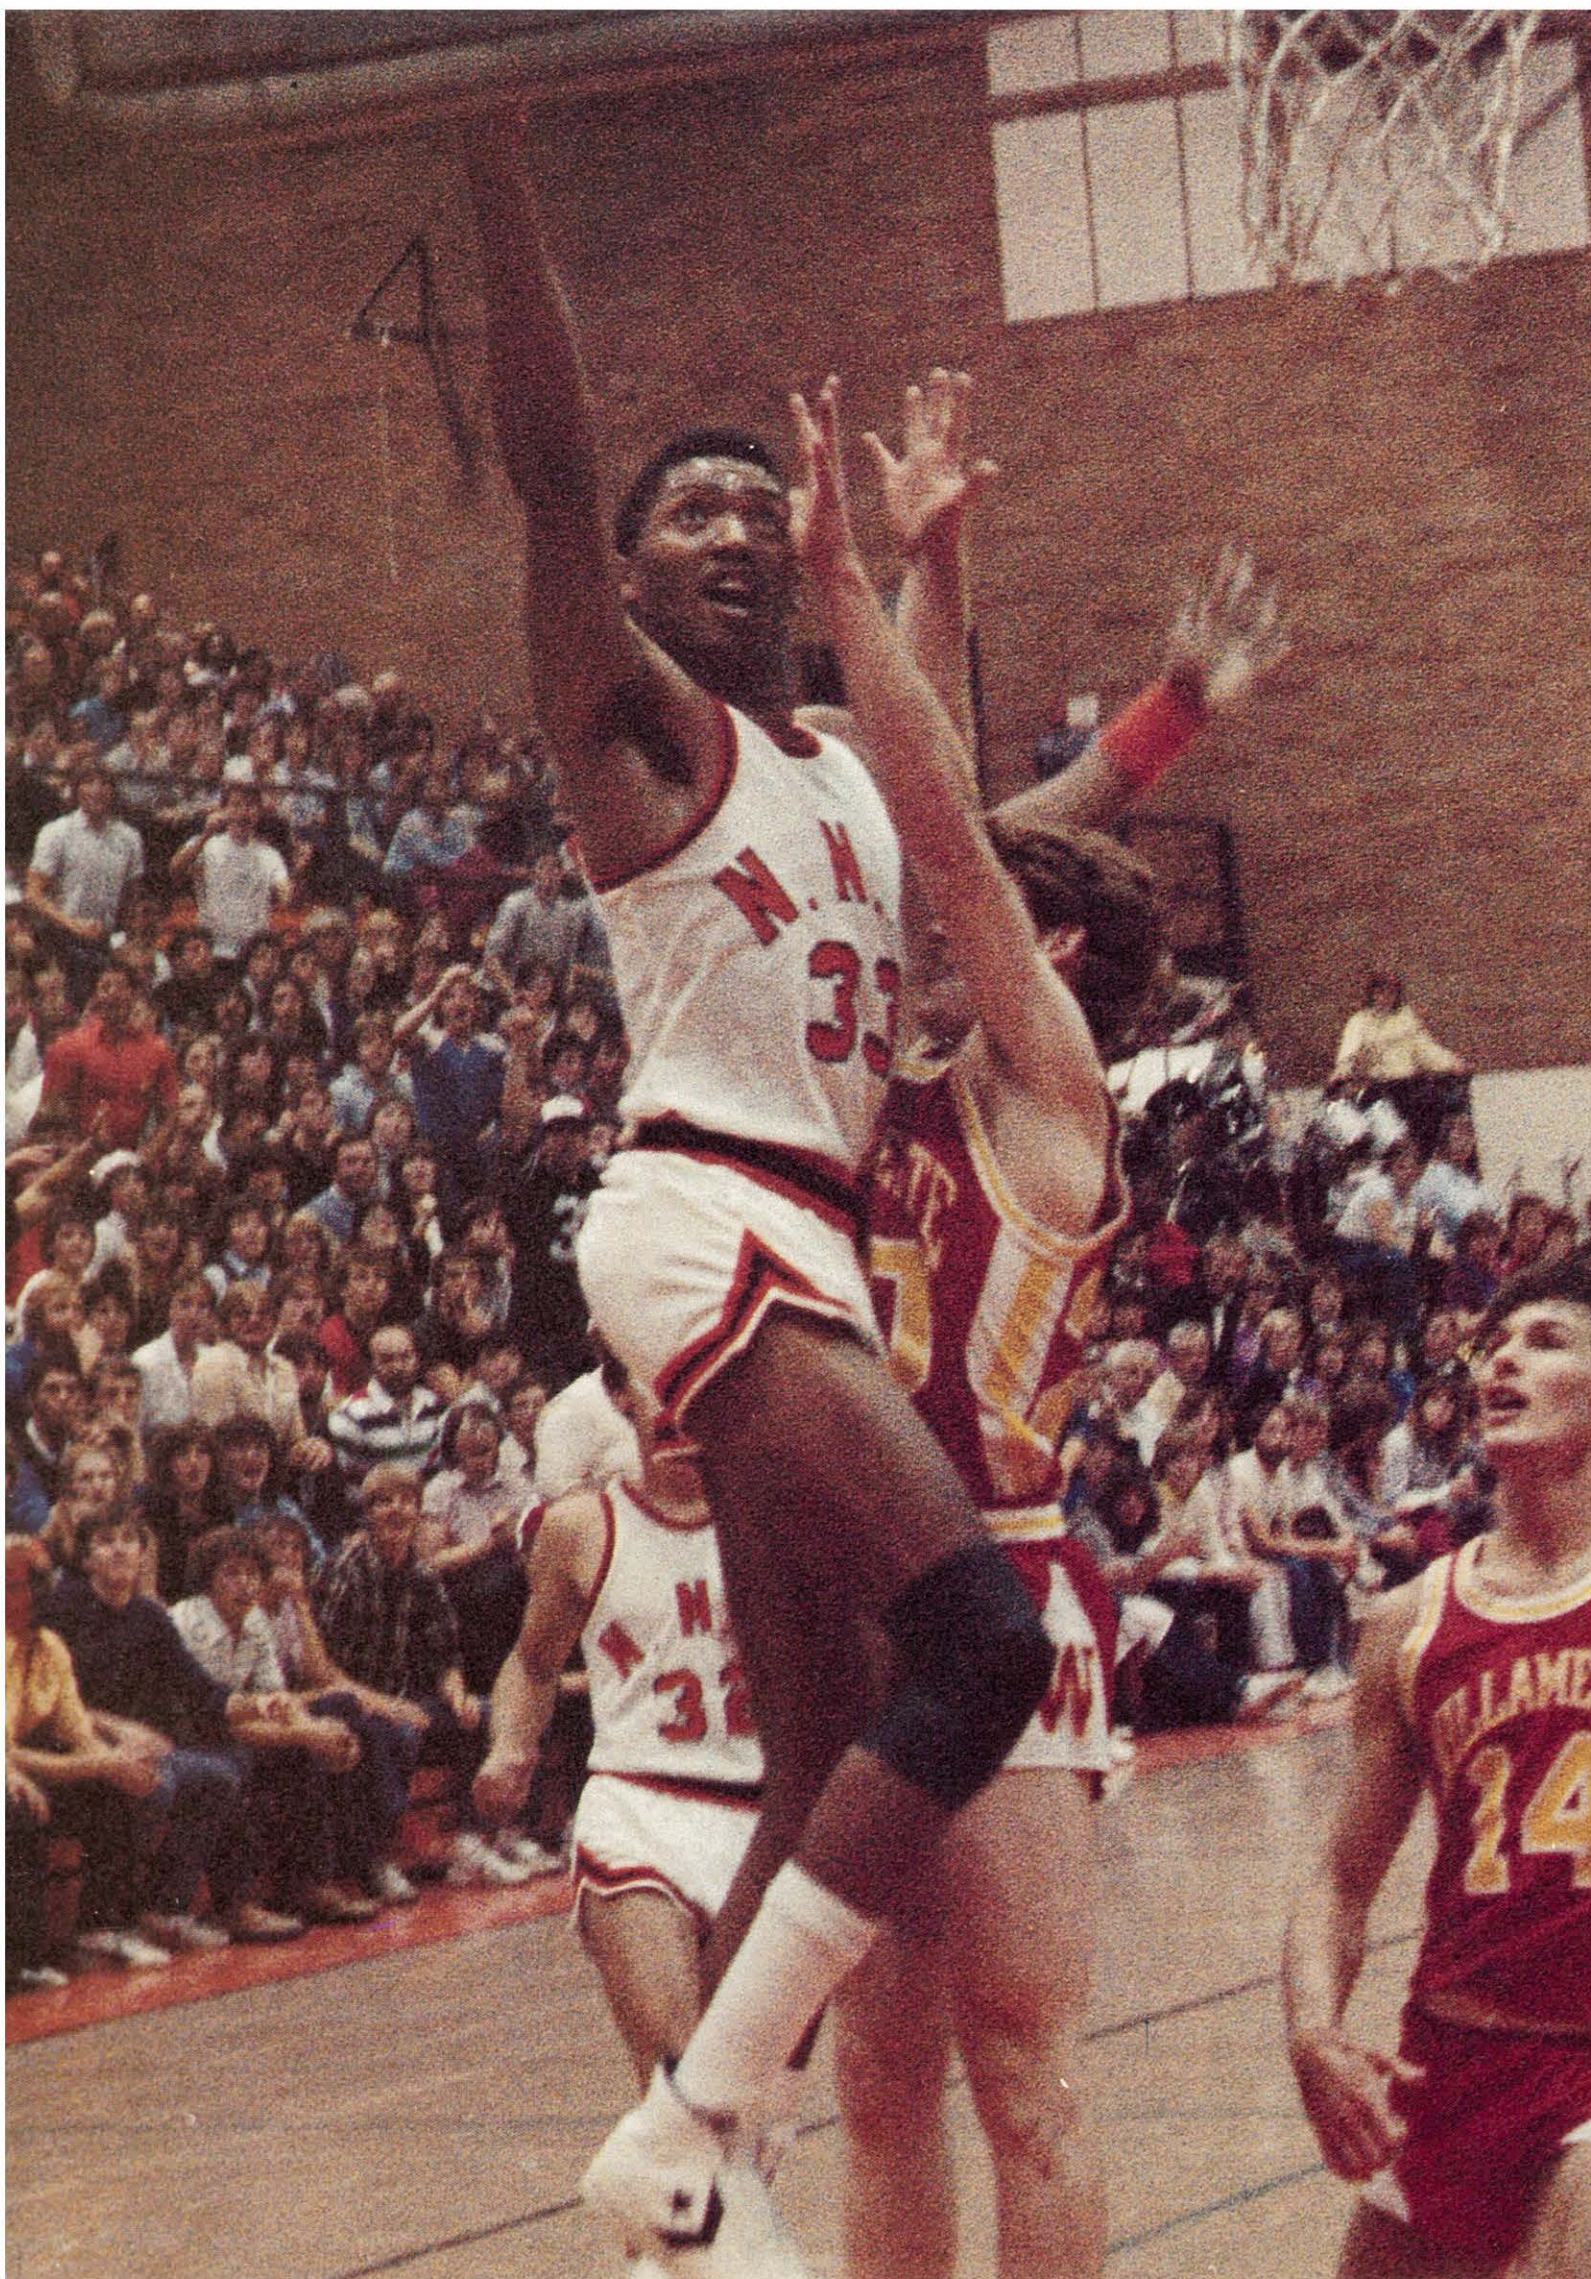

God has not merely issued the command: "Go away and obey!" He never wanted that. He has given us the opportunity of education in a Christian setting so we can "Come together and obey." The example of Jesus' life ensures us that we can really be Servants in the Making — even when you went to Felter Lecture Hall the day Research and Report Writing is meeting in the library.

Jesus' life compels us to have the same attitude that He did: although He was in heaven — as God — He did not need to grasp on to His identity and try to prove what He really was. He gave Himself for one clear reason: to be a servant. Think about it! Jesus was a servant. We are greatly honored to be pursuing the same lifestyle as His — we are Servants in the Making.

We were able to exhibit this attitude in many ways this year. Opportunities come to us frequently, and our response is the key: What we feel and what we do for others proves that we are dedicated to servanthood.

We called a "truce" with the College of Idaho, and together raised money to help the Northwest Medical Teams in their service to famine-stricken Ethiopia.

We "adopted" the Lawson family in their moment of desperate need.

Game activities prove to be a source of energy for spectators as well as players.

It is virtually impossible to come up with a list of the "ways" to become a servant. It would be easy if sitting quietly in chapel, passing Bib. Lit. 101, and going to Time Out on Wednesday nights were all that we had to do (or would it?). But really, there is nothing we can do. We must decide that we are going to be servants, not do acts of service. The "doing" is important, but without the "being", you won't have really had anything to do with fulfilling God's desire for your life — becoming a servant. There never can be any "formula" for the fulfillment of this way of living except following in the path of Jesus' life.

The love of NNC was given to them freely as students helped fix their car, pay their utility bills, care for their children, supply them with much-needed money, and lift their spirits from deep sorrow.

We donated cash and canned foods so families who utilize the food banks in Nampa could be supplied and so families could be fed.

Without the people at NNC, many others — in the community and on the campus — would have felt the sting of pain as they fought — alone — through their problems. Those who are Servants in the Making helped to make life once again fulfilling for so many who needed help the most.

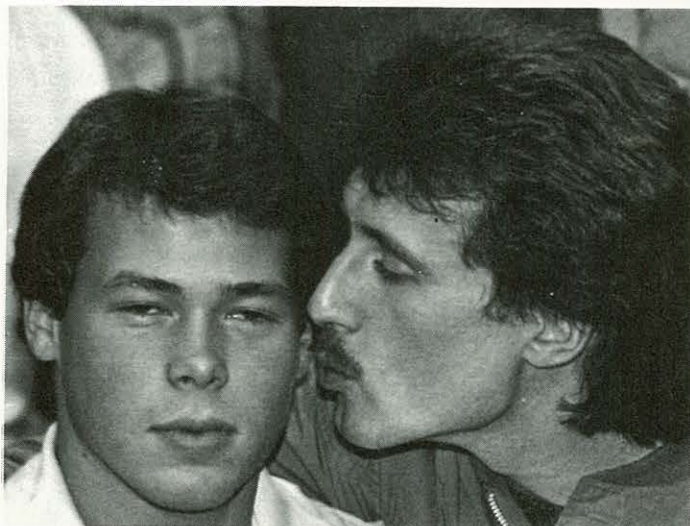

Jesus often said that He loves us. As Servants in the Making, He encourages us with the promise of not only His amazing love, but also, as He said, "When you are my servant, you are also my friend. Once you know me with a servants heart, you will be no longer only a servant: you will be my friend." For our lives as servants, Jesus gives us His friendship!

Friendship with Him, and friendships all around us. Jesus is not simply assuring us that life will be only bearable. He is promising us the most profound joy that can be experienced. We are to be friends with Him! We are given the power to have friends in others!

The promise has been given to us that the life of servanthood provides friends — those with whom we've been able to share our lives, and those who will really be our friends for the rest of our lives.

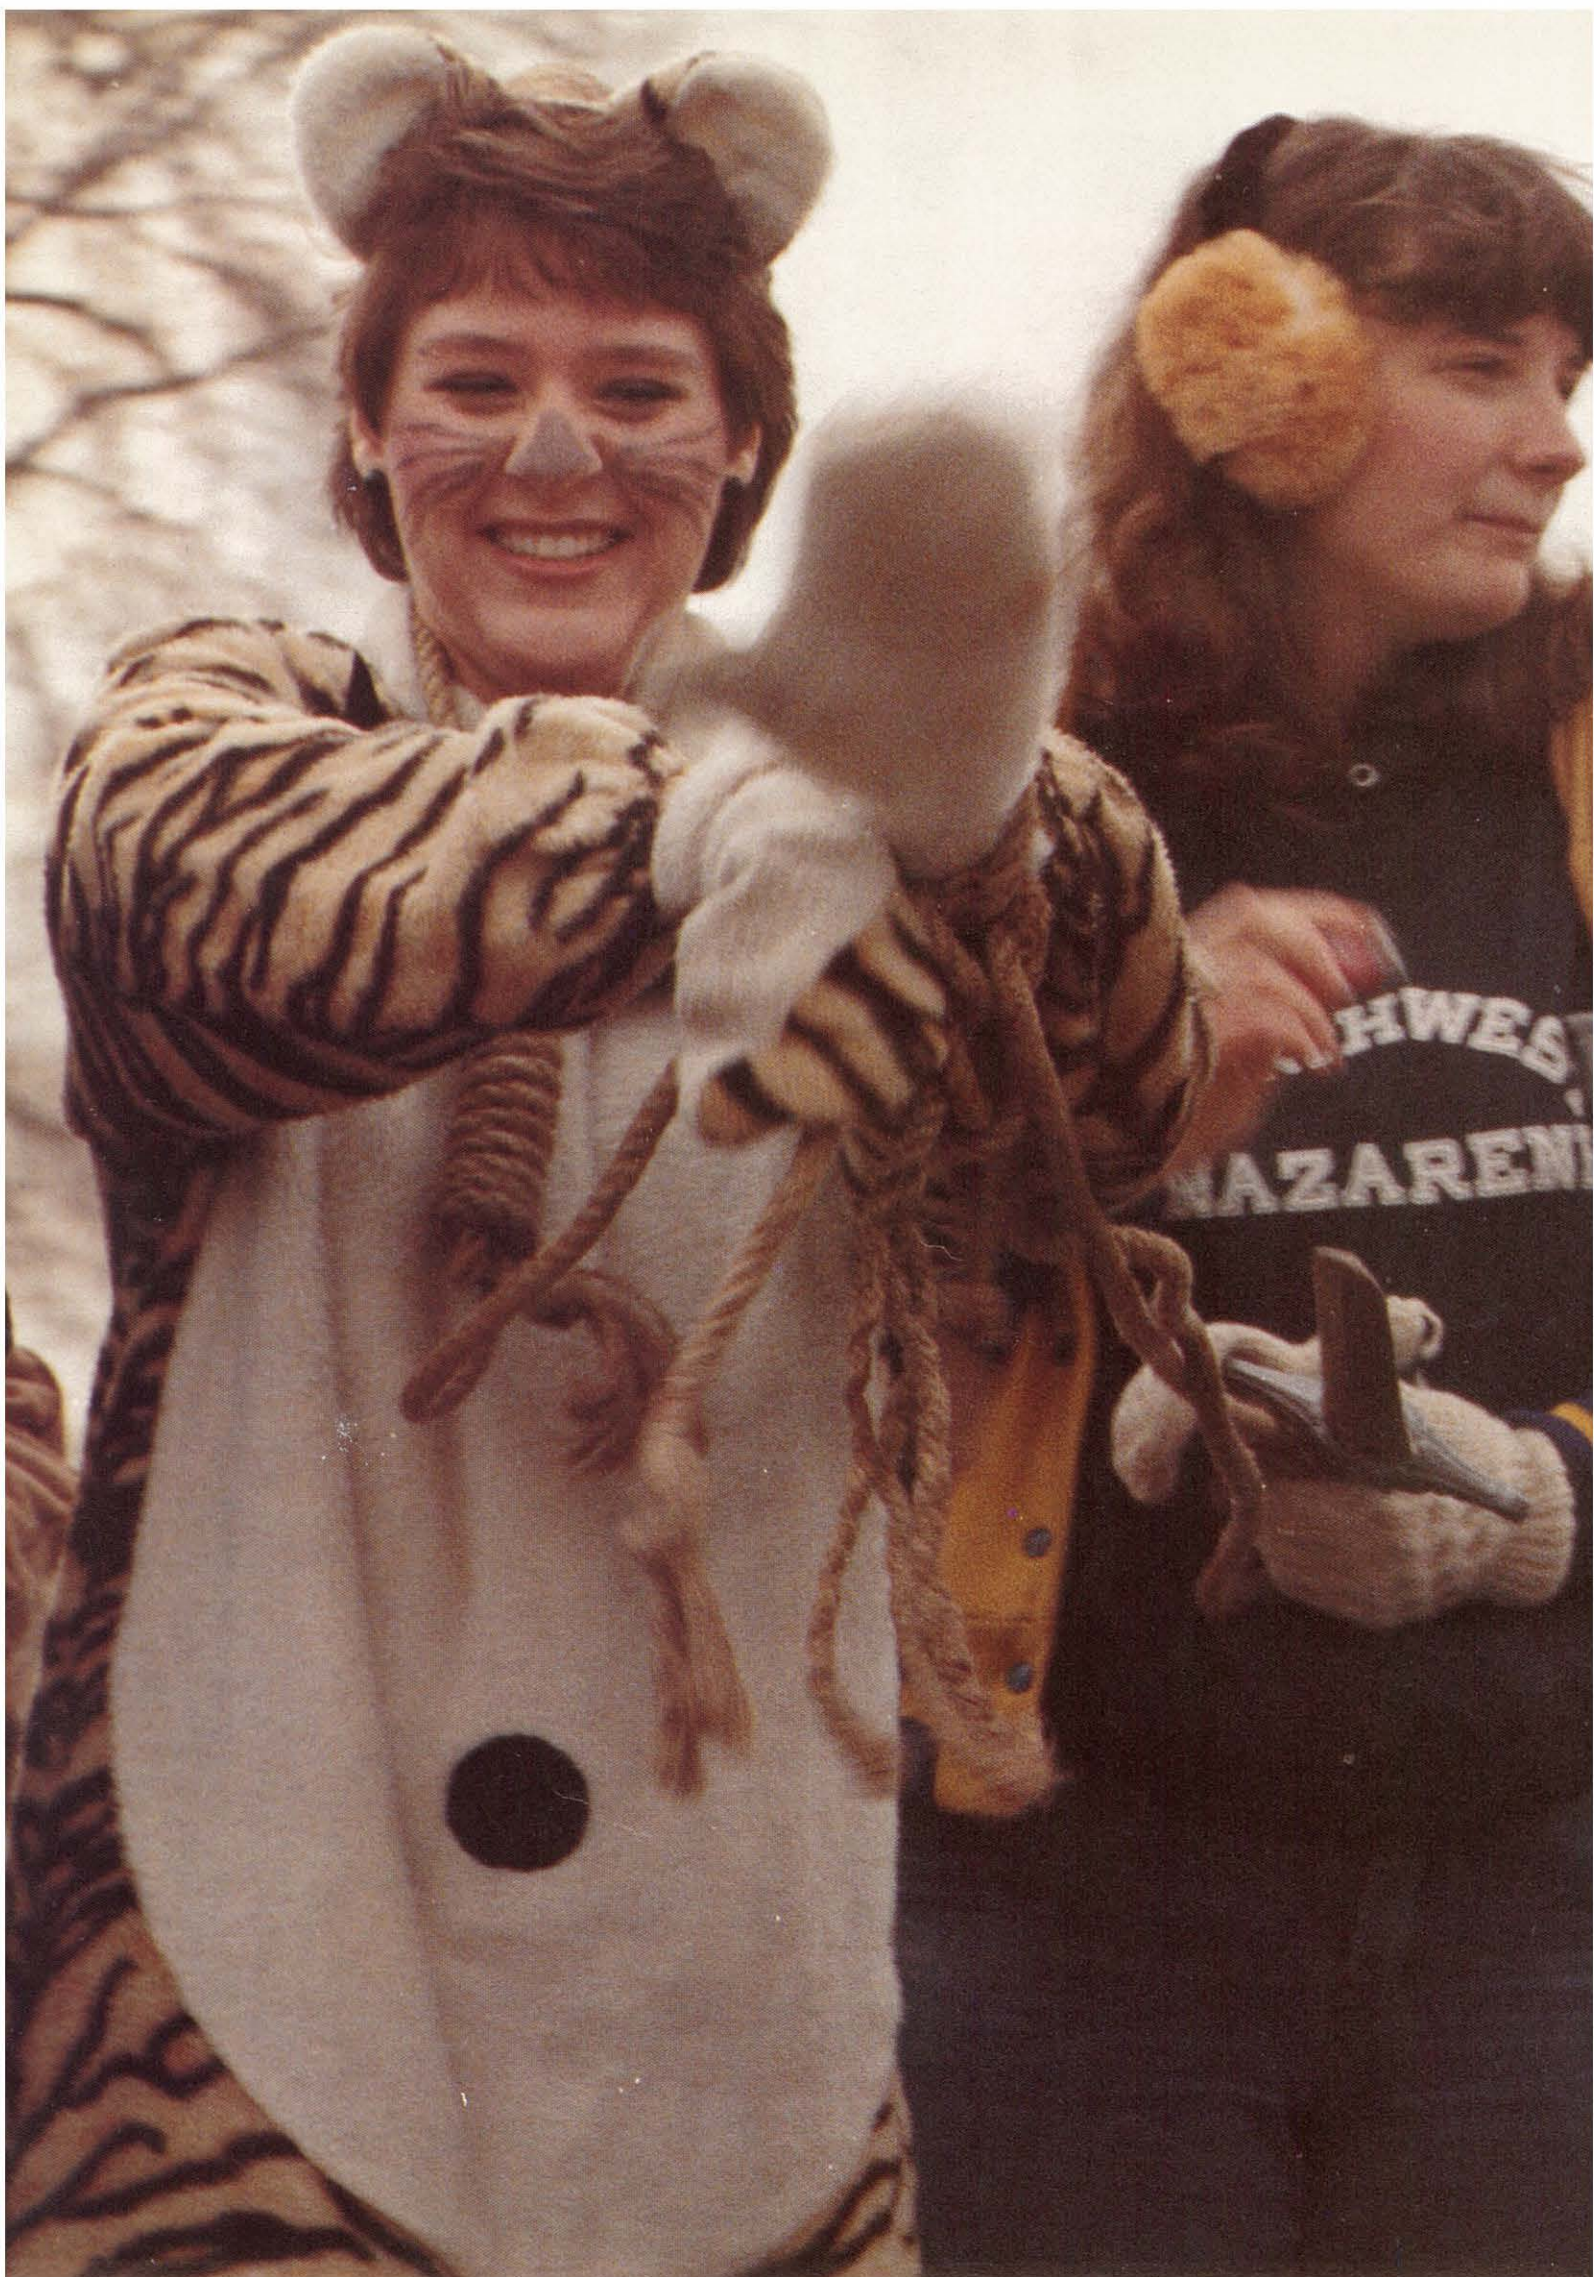

Faces and expressions of students make the campus a unique experience.

God reveals Himself throughout the changing seasons at NNC. He is always here, hoping we will realize the extent of His love, and reminding us of the greatness that comes from service.

God gives us friendship — with Him and with others — as a benefit of living the life of a servant.

The autumn transformation of nature to its golden splendor speaks of the ever-present God at work in His own way. The snow-filled world of winter whispers of the care God extends to us, to keep us covered by His love. Spring shouts out the glories of God as He produces new birth in all of His creation and reminds of the promise of new life to the people who call on Him to receive the love He so abundantly extends. The lengthening days of summer display the eternal life that God longs to provide each person. Even the end of the school year can produce an image of God: He assures us that the present world will not last forever and be our only hope, but that there is a rest to come — which we can be excited to someday participate in. NNC has something going on almost all the time. Under all circumstances you can see evidence of Jesus' love — if you will look for it: All that is most valuable in life must be sought for, and so it is with Jesus — if we look for Him at NNC and anywhere else, anytime at all, we will see Him.

Jesus has provided us help, so we can easily find Him. He said, "Before you chose me, I chose you!"

We are promised that if we will draw near to God, He does whatever is necessary to show Himself to us — God will draw near to us.

Consider only one year in your life at NNC — notice some instances where God can be found by you: At moving in and registration, at freshmen initiation and Fresheree. Certainly you can experience God's presence at Fall Revival and Spiritual Life Week, but you can also see Him at the Rootbeer Fest and at Homecoming. During Hunger Awareness Week and the Blood Drives, picnics and concerts, during classes and Graduation: God is at NNC and He wants you to know that He loves you.

Responding to His love and deciding to be what He wants will make you a Servant in the Making. To live for Him means to be His servant. He helps His servants become His friends.

The spirit behind NNC is the desire to love God and live for Him. All who are His work toward becoming His servants. Do you love the God who loves you? As long as you live, then, you know exactly who you are; you are Servants in the Making.

the Cru-keys and through notices taped to the window of the Executive Vice-President's office.

Apathy

1) An affliction which would affect an abundance of the majority of students at NNC—if they could just get the energy to feel that way. 2) A malady expressed in the form of lack of expression; usually evident in classes, chapel, and SAGA (although the latter is understandable). Apathy is combated and conquered by love, it's opposite attitude.

Brick House

"That place on the corner by Dooley, you know, across from Kurtz Park." This is the famed establishment which exists for the sole purpose of students' fun (imagine that!). Steve and Sue Wilson hold ice cream parties (all-you-can-eat), sports dinners, and reserve it for whatever activities the students plan (um, within responsible limits, of course). Be sure to stop in at the foosball tables. There's only one catch. Clean up when you're done!

Bicycles

The ownership of a bicycle in Nampa is proof that the old saying is true. Once you learn to ride one, you'll never forget how. This is evidenced by the fact that Nature plans the seasons with perfect malice toward bike-riders. September—The weather is okay, but you're too busy. October through April—There's too much snow and it's locked up in your dorm. May—It's warm enough, but you're too busy with term papers and finals. June through August—You're at home and your bike is still locked up at school. September—You check-out your bike—the tires have melted and are stuck to the ground. Sophomore through Seniors Years—Look at your bike each day in disgust, or sell it to a freshman.

Dorm Life

A form of Communal-Living at NNC. The basic concepts of Dorm Life are as follows:

- 1) Whatever I have is mine—don't ever touch it.
- 2) Whatever you have is mine—thank you.
- 3) If there is a conflict of proof of ownership—it's mine.

Elijah Drain

- 1) The place from where the Great Prophet of the Old Testament was taken to heaven by a tornado and by chariots of flame.
- 2) The distant cousin of Professor Keith Drahn.
- 3) The scenic sewer that separates Corlett and the Olsen Apartments from the rest of the school.

Endurance

Elections

- 1) From the candidate-perspective: a valiant effort to enrich the life of the NNC—see ASNNC. 2) From the student-body-perspective: see APATHY.

Finals

Students are told that Final Exams are the ultimate test of their knowledge and grasp of the content of a course. The unexplained purpose of finals is more practical: They are used as preparation for the Great Tribulation, or can be utilized as a form of penance for sins.

Foreign Students

The students who have come to NNC from a culture different than that of "Mainstream America" (this term courtesy of Intro. to Anthropology). The students who try hard to adapt to the language and life-style of the majority around them, while attempting to retain their own unique identity. This term could define students from another country or from Southern California.

Guest Speakers

According to an uncondacted poll, guest speakers are to be treated accordingly:

- 1) In the classroom: with great admiration; they bring excitement into the usual routine.
- 2) In chapel: with disrespect; they interrupt a long-deserved nap—especially when they have a message God wants you to hear.

NOTE: This is not the official policy outlined in the Student Handbook.

Hallelujah

Chorus

By Handel

The official anthem of NNC during first term. Have you ever wondered why people are supposed to stand when the Hallelujah Chorus is played or sung? When King James of England heard this song, he was so overcome with reverence, he stood—and if it's good enough for the King, it's good enough for us. We've been carrying on this custom for 300 years.

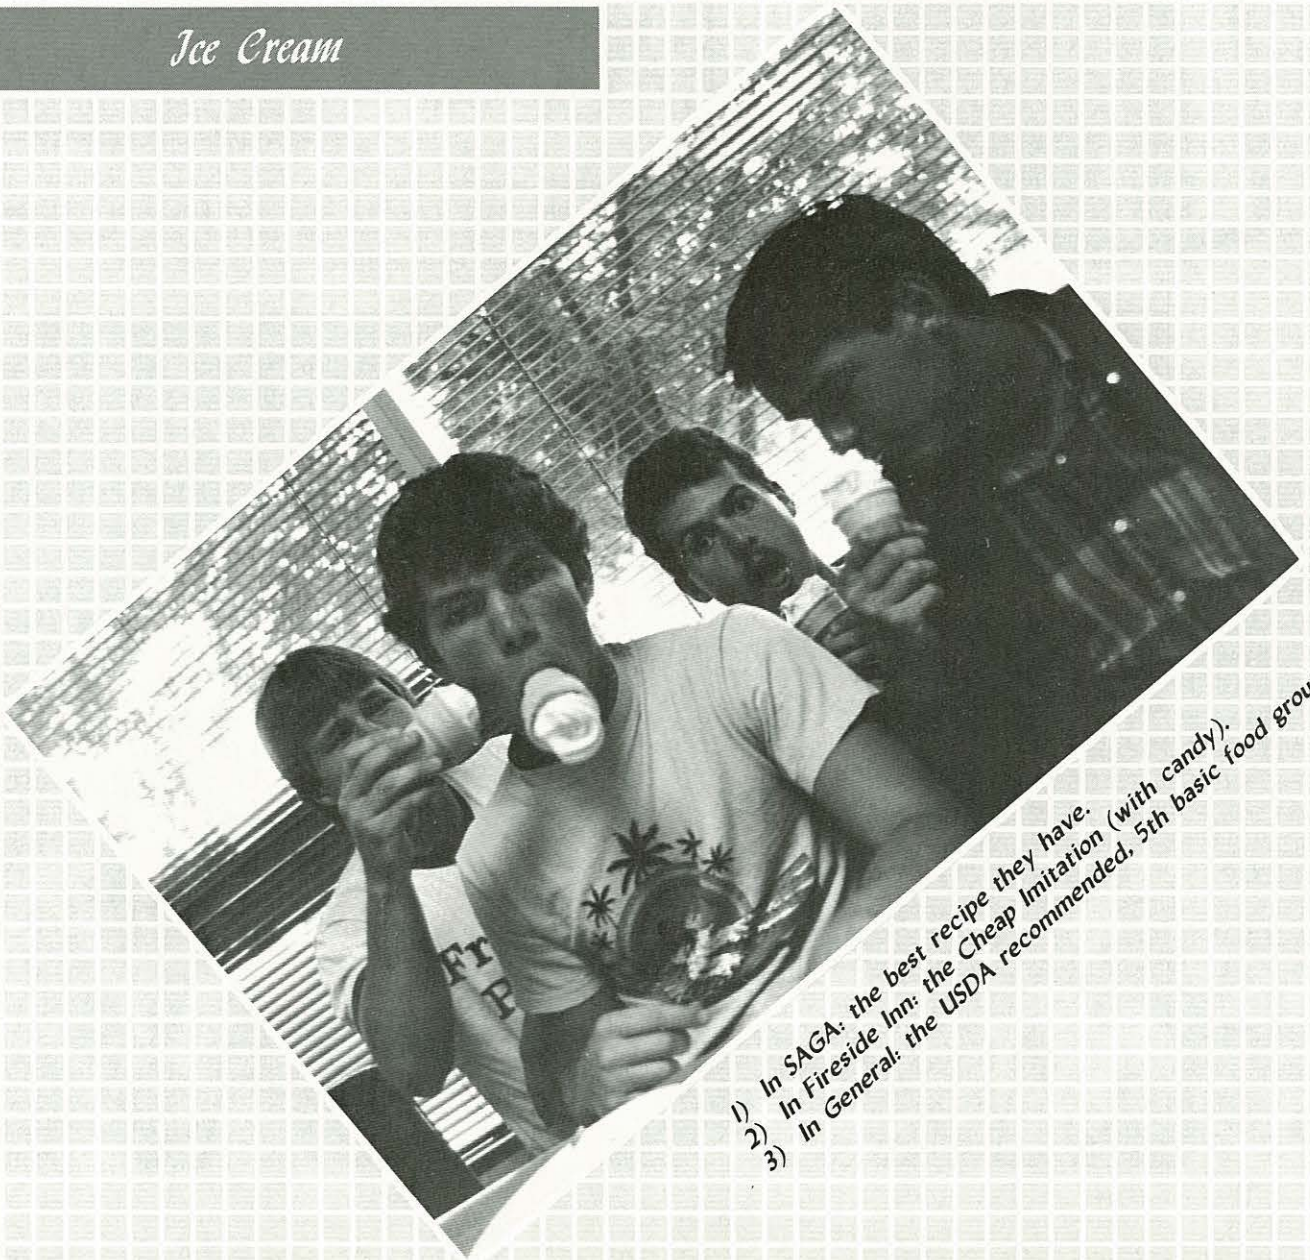

The ancient custom of watering lawns without sprinklers by flooding them with a deluge of water. This is supposed to be the most economical method of watering, but it is actually carried on only out of respect for tradition: Centuries ago, the Nampa watering Crew used to flood lawns, but once they forgot to turn off the water. The city was flooded, the grass was incredibly green, and gullible people have been doing this—on purpose—ever since.

Irrigating

Ice Cream

- 1) In SAGA: the best recipe they have.
- 2) In Fireside Inn: the Cheap Imitation (with candy).
- 3) In General: the USDA recommended, 5th basic food group.

Jog

The required manner of getting to any first-hour class on time.

Keys

- 1) Things which, when utilized properly, unlock doors.
- 2) Things which are always lost, so that they cannot be utilized properly.

Library

*The place to go to visit your friends.
If you want to do some serious studying, you must go to Fireside Inn.*

Married Students

The fastest growing ethnic group at NNC. Each year, the number of married students increases, while, for some reason, the amount of single students decreases. Either older, more mature people are desiring to complete their college education, or the rest of the NNC population just can't wait until they graduate. NNC is a great place for a man to give up his Bachelor's degree, and the women can earn the MRS. degree.

No Money

The NNC motto. Students with no money are to be characterized as good, normal, studious, Christian people. Students who have money (there are one or two every few years) are not students at all. They are abnormal. As taught in Phil. 307 (LOG-IC):

1. Students are those with no money.
2. Some people called students do have money.
3. Therefore, those who have money cannot be students.

Open House

This is a time when visitors of the "opposite gender are allowed to be in your dorm room. Open House traditionally coincides with a rare occurrence: Room Cleaning.

Picnics

Picnics are much fun. Shorts are worn in an attempt to feel that summer is on the way and SAGA cooks outside in an attempt to make you feel that delicious food is on the way. Yes, Picnics are much fun.

Parking Tickets

1. "No one really gives out tickets." 2. "I'll only be here a few minutes." 3. "The pros can walk, it's okay if I park here." 4. "There's no way I'm putting that parking sticker on my car, besides, everyone knows my car." 5. Don't count on the above excuses.

Registration

1. At the beginning of first term, a line that lasts for two days. 2. At the beginning of second and third terms the condition improves, it is a line that lasts one day. 3. Registration is usually the first step in the procedure known as dropping classes.

Revival

Revival services are held on campus at various times during the year. At these services, special messages are brought. Students are encouraged to consecrate themselves, fully, to God. Revival is also an attitude. More and more, students (and professional personnel) are realizing who God is and living their lives as those dedicated to Him. Revival comes through prayer and seeking God in all His reality, but, mainly, revival comes only to one person at a time—beginning with you!

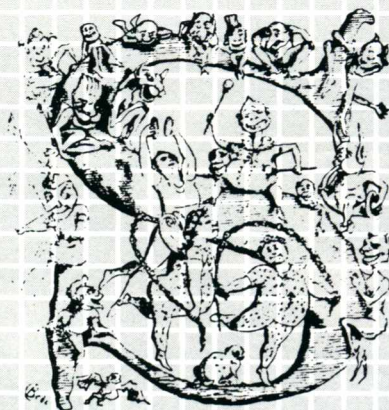

SAGA

The most unique phenomenon of NNC. Students pay hundreds of dollars each year to SAGA, yet he is still not pleased. SAGA hires people to cook something like food that acts something like mild poison. SAGA employees are not to blame—this deviousness is not in their power to control.

No one has ever seen SAGA, but reliable legend states that his Aunt Hebezebah was an awful cook, and subsequent to eating her food for 12 Christmas' in a row (and countless family gatherings), SAGA lost his sanity. SAGA now thrives on inflicting the torment he (or she?) formerly received. Don't let what happened to young SAGA happen to you. Always remember that the effects of SAGA food can be offset by MUD PIES.

SAGA employees will say that the term, SAGA, stands for a resting place in the desert, or, perhaps, the name of a Viking War Tale. It seems we know the real story.

T e l e p h o n e s

Telephones are a lesson in responsibility. For the first time, each person who makes a long distance call to their families (or "close" friends) will receive a bill with the nerve to expect them to pay. You must prove your level of responsibility. Send the bill to your parents. You have just passed the test. You have shown who is responsible for what you do.

Underwear, Men's Pink

No man buys pink underwear. Many men buy articles of clothing or towels or sheets which are burgandy or maroon in color (not red, please). These items are often laundered together; All men, therefore, have pink underwear.

Upperclassmen

The result of the metamorphosis that occurs when freshmen and sophomores escape from their cocoons. Just as all caterpillars are potential butterflies, so are all freshmen and sophomores potentially upperclassmen. Sometimes, it just seems to take forever.

Video Games

The most expensive computer-science major at NNC. A wide variety of skills is learned, and much practical experience is gained. This program is not listed in the current Catalog. Check with the Student Center Director for details. Registration fee: at least 25¢.

Vending

Machines

The major reason for the record-high enrollment in PE102 (Karate).

The things that take away from self-fulfillment. These include: 1. First Hour Classes 2. BL101 3. Studying 4. Typing Papers 5. Finals 6. Third Term

"What's

Your

This is a mysterious question. Most people will answer it different ways each term (i.e. What's Your Major?" Term I: "Atomic Physics." Term II: "Pre-Seminary A." Term III: "General Studies A.A.>"). Many answer this with the same response throughout their college career, but no one knows why they keep the same major (it's not normal). The few honest students always give the truthful response: "I have no idea."

This question is usually best answered when you read your diploma. You majored in Artus Baccalaurius.

Major?

Yummy Food In SAGA

Sorry, no definition available.

Zero

1. The temperature in Nampa (in farenheit degrees) from November to March, inclusive. 2. The score received on a quiz given with little or no advance notice. 3. The amount of cash each student has on hand under normal conditions.

X stands for no definition.

Homecoming 1985

The highlight of the year for the student body without doubt, has got to be homecoming. It's not just the crowning of the queen, or the big basketball game, (which NNC won by the way) it's everything combined and more. It's the coronation, the game, the parade, the special sports events, the music, the spirit... it's all in one word; tradition.

Some things never change. The queen will always cry, the princesses will cheer for the queen, the escorts will look striking and the fans will go nuts at the game, but that's what makes homecoming so special. It's traditionally the most remembered time of the year. It's something one experiences not just by sight, but with all five senses. One can almost taste and smell the excitement of homecoming, and lastly it's a time that touches the heart, from the first tear that falls the cheek of the newly crowned queen, to the leap of joy as the Crusaders drive to the basket for a dunk, it's the heart that truly feels it all.

Rhode's Scholarship Recipient

Ginger Rinkenberger

Ginger Rinkenberger — who is this woman who has been chosen to receive the most prestigious award in the academic community, the Rhodes Scholarship, which will allow her to spend two or three years at the University of Oxford in England? To many students she is the quiet, perhaps shy, sleepy looking girl whose name no one knows for sure. But to those who know her best, she is the assertive woman with the bright, mischievous smile who makes insightful comments and asks piercing questions — who runs off with the class curve. Many think she studies all of the time. (Rumor has it that she actually reads novels and optional selections from the syllabus — just for fun.) But, in her spare time, she practices her electric guitar, produces ceramic sculptures in the art studio, sharpens her skill as a video technician, scuba dives to keep up her certification as a diver, volunteers for Denver political candidates or works for the nuclear freeze movement, writes for the campus newspaper, or engages in challenging or trivial conversations with her peers. To me, however, she is just Ginger — unassuming, witty, warm, honest, and friendly.

Being A Senior At NNC

Considering the past ...
Enjoying the present ...
Anticipating the future ...
Is having become a Senior.

So many changes since our Freshman year,
So many friends,
Reflections of Jesus,
Learning Experiences,
Caring Profs,
And fun times,
Realizing that there is real life after NNC.

Talking with friends,
Cheering for our fearless Crusaders,
Working hard for Senior Slick,
Challenging Chapels,
Playing intramural games,
Studying for those never ending tests,
And eating like there's no tomorrow.
Allow me the privilege to say,
"It's GREAT to be a Senior!"

Executive Officers

Our theme for ASNNE was an active one. It challenged the student body to break from isolation and boldly confront our immediate surroundings with the love of Christ.

For the ASNNE student leaders, it all began at the Fall Student Leadership Retreat; for the student body, it was the ASNNE Fall Chapel.

Some highlights to follow were the ASNNE Homecoming Activities; Hal Ivan Smith discussing relationships and dating; the ASNNE Bon Marche Inventory fundraiser; the Valentine's banquet; the Northwest Medical Team fundraiser; the May Work Day, and much more.

Indeed, these times will be cherished — for these things were done as Servants ... In The Making.

One of the major factors of our Student Government is the Student Senate. It functions as the direct voice of the students on a wide variety of topics. This past year saw a number of substantial changes in Student Government, which were initiated by Senate Members.

There were many topics which the Senate designated to spend time on. These included: the problems and solutions to the publication dilemmas, effective job descriptions for the executive officers, better ways to manage elections, more efficient uses of the student's money, and a number of ways to cause it's chairman to have massive headaches.

We should all be proud of what the Senate has accomplished this year. They work under a variety of adverse conditions, including: no pay for all the work they put in, having to come to exciting (?) meetings every week, and a host of projects assigned by a loving chairman.

It is always a real pleasure to watch, especially when I'm out of office, the wheels of our student government roll. Even though most people don't know what they do, it is the Senate which keeps our Student Government moving in positive directions. Thank you for your participation!

The

Crusader Publication

1984-85 was a good year for THE CRUSADER. THE CRUSADER increased its issues to ten and changed its format from a magazine style to a fullpage newspaper format. THE CRUSADER concentrated its efforts towards total campus coverage including the edition of a Fine Arts Editor to cover campus fine arts. News coverage expanded to include all campus activities as well as a student forum. THE CRUSADER editorial policy attempted to challenge students and enhance learning through questioning and thought provoking commentary. The "big story" of THE CRUSADER for 1984-85 was the five-part investigative report on declining NNC enrollment.

THE CRUSADER finished 1984-85 totally debt free and operating in the black as well as having established a reputation for solid journalism.

Northwesterners, ... when heard, the name, seems to bring thoughts of hard-worked, dedicated, and spiritually moved students. Dr. D.E. Hill has directed the Northwesterners for many years now, and each year they sound better and better. Students have grown through various local concerts, a travelling missionary experience (this year to Columbia!) and through a school musical. The Mikado was their choice this year.

The Northwesterners use sign language to perform a song.

A LAST GLIMPSE OF THE YEAR.

I can't believe it's finally done! I hope that there are no hard feelings towards last year's staff. Things happen, and there are positive aspects in every situation. From this particular situation, four people learned how to put a box full of pictures on to 315 layout sheets, then figure out who is who, do the layout, type it, proof it, package it, and mail it. Not every page has the caption and copy that it should, and perhaps there is a name missing, but the moment has been captured and placed in this annual for you to look back on. Thanks to all those people who prayed that I would know what I was doing, and believed in me. (Pub Board). And special thanks to two professors who worked with me during first term-Bob Curl and Paul Taylor. And so now it is appropriate to say, "And finally here it is-the 1984-85 OASIS."
