Woody Smith And D. Rodman To Head Student Body And Paper In '46-'47

Following presidential elections in chapel, Wednesday, April 3, ballots showed that Elwood Smith and Doris Rodman were elected to fill the office of Student-Body President and Crusader Editor respectively for the year 1946-1947.

"I guess I want to be an 'imamator', of Ed," was Woody's comment as he accepted the position of student body president, following a illustrated speech by Ed Dowd on the different kinds of "taters."

Woody was born in St. Croix Falls, Wisc., but he grew up in Grand Rapids, Minn., attending both the grade school and high school. While still in high school Woody was a prominent leader in school affairs; holding the positions of Literary Editor of the high school year book, secretary of the senior class, and graduating as one of the highest honor students from a class of 150 seniors.

Since entering college as a freshman Woody has participated in varied school activities. He has been in the A Capella Choir for three years and has been Sgt. at Arms of the L.S.P. society, vice-president of the L.S.P.'s, and is now president of that society. In his freshman year he was also Student get Student president.

Mr. Elwood Smith

May, 1943, the end of his sophomore year, found Woody in the Navy, where he served as a Radio Technician, first class, until he was discharged in December, 1945.

Doris Rodman, elected Crusader editor for next year, comes to NNC from Ontario, Oregon. Since entering college she has been active in band, orchestra, and A Capella. Her extra-curricular activities also include program chairman of the A. W. S. Council, ADP program chairman, and member of the Crusader staff.

The following officers were elected in chapel this morning: Vice-president, Warren Franklin; Secretary, Dolores Bone; Treasurer, Irwin Edgan, and Sgt. at Arms, Elmore Vail.

Art Department Holds Spring Exhibit, Boise; Only Oils Displayed

Exhibiting works of oil done by the Northwest Nazarene College Art Department, some fifty students presented a combined exhibit of oil paintings at Boise, Idaho on April 5, 6 and 7.

A special feature of the exhibit was the popular ballot for the best and most skillful work done by any of the students; the selection was: first, Miss Racheal Cockerham's "Lost Sheep"; second, Mr. Arleigh Eckert's "Study In Light And Shadows"; third, Miss Ruth Long's "Old Virginia."

Professor Arnold Finkbeiner commented, "The exhibit was one of the best in variety and strength that had been presented in Boise in the last several years." The Idaho Statesman Newspaper made similar comment. Professor Finkbeiner further stated that he felt the interest being shown in oil painting at the college was definitely rising in spite of the handicaps inflicted by shortages of oil colors and suitable bases for pictures. He said, "Pictures are smaller and have less rich color because of the lack of supplies, than they would have been; also fewer."

The Art Department is planning their annual Spring Exhibit during Commencement week in which all students of the department will represent work in all divisions of artistic skill. Oils, pastels, chalk, water-colors, silk-screenings, posters, lettering, sculpturing, and possibly photography examples will be shown.

There will be presented the Art Department Loving Cup Award on Commencement Day to the student adjudged to have contributed the most to his community and to have shown the greatest progress and interest in the department.

Church Will End Fiscal Year Soon

"The College Church of Northwest Nazarene College will end one of the best years it has ever seen, April 30," stated Reverend John E. Riley recently.

During the year there have been 117 new members added to the church making a total of 325. The majority of which have come by letter.

Campus Improvement Plans Hampered By Lack Of Materials and Labor

Lack of materials and labor has cut short the plans of many proposed improvements around the campus of N. N. C. this spring, but a few of the plans will be carried out in spite of the difficulties.

The walls of Morrison Hall have not been re-decorated since it was first built and the first improvement on the campus will be the interior decoration of Morrison. Not only will the inside be re-decorated but also the exterior, as plans have been made for landscaping the grounds of the R. T. Williams li-

"Easter"

To the Christian heart the Easter Season is one of the happiest times of the whole year. It is the time when soul and spirit are drawn close to God and the entire self is revived. The world will not and cannot know what joy the Christian feels at Easter. It is afar off from the magnificent cross. We see it passing by wagging its head to the Christian way just as the Jews did when our Lord hung on the tree. It cannot see the beauty of the lilies, the sorrow of the Christ, the rugged aesthetics of the cross, nor know the wonderful compassion for the lost expressed by Christ in His death.

As we approach the day of Easter, we are obligated each one to seek for his brother. We must bring men the gospel of the resurrection, for new hats, clothes and belonging do not make the Easter Season, it is rather the spirit within. It is the way you and I react to our heritage of a life in Christ.

When Pilate gave consent to the crucifixion of Christ he did not give word for the death of a mere man, but the Son of the universe. The King of all peoples, all knowledges, all life, and, more glorious, all resurrection. He tried to justify himself with the washing of his hands, but it did not work. We must be careful during this period of Lent and the Easter Season that we do not as Pilate and try to justify our deeds by mere self-esteem. We should live Easter in its fullest significance by prayer, Bible readings, and a healthy outlook on life and a right relationship to God. If we are faithful in these things, when Easter comes we will be able to say with the Psalmist, "This is the day the Lord hath made, rejoice and be glad in it." No better time is there in there in the year to rejoice and be glad than the Easter Season.

Funeral Services Of Dr. R. T. Williams Held In Kansas City First Church

The funeral services of Dr. R. T. Williams, General Superintendent for the Church of the Nazarene, was held in the First Church of the Nazarene in Kansas City, Missouri, March 29.

The Memorial service included: Scripture Reading, Dr. L. A. Reed; Prayer, General Superintendent H. V. Miller; Messages of Sympathy, General Church Secretary, S. T. Ludwig; Song, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davis; Address, General Superintendent J. B. Chapman; Song, Mr. and Mrs. Davis; Sermon, Dr. G. B. Williamson, Pastor; and Benediction, General Superintendent H. C. Powers.

Interment was at the Nazarene Section of Green Lawn Cemetery. Dr. R. T. Williams was born at Milan, Texas, February 14, 1883. He received his secondary education at a high school in Fort Jesup, Louisiana.

At the age of sixteen, Dr. Williams came under the influence of the gospel and was saved and sanctified. The same year he accepted his call to preach and began immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams joined the Church of the Nazarene in 1908. In 1915 after the deaths of two General Superintendents, Dr. P. F. Bresee, and Dr. W. C. Wilson, he and Dr. Goodwin were elected to fill the vacancies. At the time of his death, Dr. Williams had begun his thirty-first year as General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene.

AROUND CAMPUS

By MARY HARMAN

Fond memories of days gone by were recalled by many upperclassmen as Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Reed made their appearance on the campus again. Remembered were such things as Prof's enthusiasm for the Sunday school and the unique experiments he managed to arrange for his applied psychology class. Too bad the visit was so short.

Doris Anderson's mother and father were seen on the campus, also the parents of Roy Litsey. We hope their visit with us was enjoyable.

The uniforms have been showing up again, you noticed? We have been pleased to see Lt. (j.g.) Ruth Mangum, R. T. 2-c Steve Teal, Ensign Richard Lindbloom, H. A. 2-c Bob Sturtevant, R. M. 3-c Dan Powell, Don Frazier, and then, there is always Warrant officer Meryle Rennick.

Don Eastly and Roy Ecker have managed to persuade Uncle Sam to let them wear civies. It seems good to see these fellows around again.

Ed. Dowd, sipping coffee at the early hour of 10:45 a. m. has become a regular event at K. K. The only chance he has for release from duty perhaps.

Service Men

By GERRIE GAINES

We are fortunate this semester to have a young lady with us from the W. A. C. Miss Edna Beringer was in the service 35 months, 16 months of this time she was in the South Pacific. She was first stationed in Brooklyn, New York, where she did clerical work and played in the band. Her overseas training which was plenty stiff, was taken in Oglethorpe, Georgia.

While overseas, Edna's duties were varied. Most of her work was in medics.

Concerning the W.A.C. — Miss Beringer is definitely in favor of it. She said that it really had its place and she is glad to have been a part of it. Her service was a great experience from which she learned many lessons. "Life is what you make it," is one thing that was proved to her.

Edna plans to major in journalism and will probably take her work in Seattle Pacific. We know, that with her insight of human life, she will be a success as a writer.

You who were here last year remember Pete Burkhardt who answered Uncle Sam's call in February. Upon completing his basic training he was sent to the Hawaiian Islands, and later to Okinawa.

Then he was sent to Japan where he was transferred into the Medical Division of the Cavalry. With his regular duties, Pete is learning the Japanese language, taking American Literature in a G. I. College, and attending medical technician school.

In his spare time Pete and a few other boys go to a mission school and teach Japanese orphans the English language, getting acquainted with the customs of Japan. For all his activities, he would like to be back at N. N. C.

Pete wants to hear from N.N.C. so fellows, how about writing him a few lines.

COUNCIL CURRENTS

By VERONA TAVES

With more than two thirds of our year already in history of N. N. C. we look forward to these last six weeks as the best culturally, scholastically, and spiritually.

We feel that our President, Mr. Dowd, has done a very fine job as the leader of our student body this year. It is a big responsibility and we want to wish our new student body president, Mr. Woody Smith, the very best of luck for 1946-47. The council has allowed fifty dollars for the student body president and student body president elect to attend the Northwest Regional Convention of Pacific Student-body Presidents at Oregon State College this month. We feel it very worthwhile that a christian college such as ours should be justly represented.

The committee appointed for our student body project has proposed that we pay one hundred and fifty dollars on the motion picture projector the college and senior class, of 1945 and '46 purchased.

Mr. Roseboro gave his report on Student Council programs. For April 24th the Academy chorus will give us another of their fine productions—and May 1st will be Senior investiture—a program I'm sure no one will want to miss.

Dooley English Award Copy Deadline Changed to May 15

Because of the pressing need of editing the stories for the Church Schools Story Contest which had April 15th as its deadline, Professor Bertha Dooley and Miss Marion B. Washburn have moved the final copy date for the Bertha R. Dooley English Award up till May 15th instead of the 1st as earlier published in this paper.

SEEK YE FIRST

" . . A Man That Is Called Jesus"

By HOMER CLOUGH

The once-blind man did not know where Jesus was but this one thing he knew—he had met a man called Jesus and He had opened his eyes. Even after being questioned time after time before the Pharisees he still was positive he had met a man called Jesus and He had opened his eyes. To him the name of Jesus was his salvation, his only hope. Through the centuries since that day, the name 'Jesus' has become the sweetest known to countless thousands. Men have left their fields and homes to march under the banner of the cross across burning deserts and over snowy mountains. The oceans have been crossed and the jungles penetrated all because of the love for this man called Jesus.

We are grateful that his name still thrills, ennobles and empowers today. Though we may be blind and in dire need when we meet Jesus, he will turn our darkness into light and enrich our lives. If we need a Savior or Sanctifier, we can find just that in Him. When the trials, tests and temptations of life come we can look to Him. When it seems that, all our friends have either forgotten or forsaken He remains true to the end. As the sea of life churns and the waves strive to wash away our very foundation, this man called Jesus steadies and supports us. In the dark hour of death we may rest and take comfort in his presence. Seeing then that He is able to meet every phase and crisis of life, let us trust Him.

Jesus will meet us then if we will but trust Him now. In the quiet hour when all is calm let us go to Him. Let us enter His presence meekly and humbly with naught against our brother. It is in this place that we find the strength that will fit us for the race. You may not be able to tarry long but daily meet this man called Jesus. Draw deeply from this living water and you will be refreshed for the day.

If we will meet Him there He will be our Hope, our Brother, our Portion, our Helper, our Physician, our Refiner, our Purifier, our Teacher, our Shepherd, our Keeper, our Restorer, our Peace, our Wisdom, and our Redemption. Yes, this man called Jesus will be our All and in All.

By PEGGY OLDFIELD

J. Leona Youngblood graduated from N.N.C. nearly a year ago. At Christmas time she reached the place of her calling in Africa. She writes, "It almost seems impossible that I have actually arrived in the land where the Lord called me to serve Him. This last month of hospital duty has been a wonderful experience."

"The Council here in South Africa has assigned me to go to Gazaland in Portugese East Africa to work in the dispensary there. It is very difficult to get into the country and as yet we have no permits to enter. At present all doors seem to be closed, but I feel that the Lord has a plan. Please pray that all may work out to His glory. Already I have learned that a missionary depends a great deal on the prayers of you people at home. Without your help and God I will be a failure, but with the combination of both I shall be able to do something for the Kingdom."

She also includes a description of services held in the leper colony about twenty-five miles from the station. "As we left," she writes, "my heart was heavy because I did not want to leave. I wanted to stay but could not. Oh, won't you pray that God will soon open a way that Miss Cole and I will soon be able to go to these people."

"Missions pay big dividends!" she adds, "I'll gladly give my all to help lead a soul to Christ. I am here, you are there. I am counting most of all on your prayers that God should use me as He sees best. Pray for Africa. Pray for the lepers. And pray that souls shall be won to Jesus. I love Him above all else and want to do His will daily. May God richly bless you as you continue to hold us up in prayer."

Religious Teaching Resumed

The United States Military government in Japan under the direction of General Douglas MacArthur has restored the teaching of Christianity in mission schools. During the war the Japanese had forbidden the teaching of Christ in mission schools, allowing only secular training.

Bishop Manning to Retire

Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in New York, will retire next fall. Vigilant guardian of orthodoxy, Bishop Manning worked to change the name of the church to "Catholic & Apostolic". A staunch high churchman, he opposes both the revision of the marriage canon and the organic union with the Presbyterian Church.

Roman Disestablishment

Reports have recently come to the attention of the press, notably the Roman Catholic Press that the Spanish Republicans plan to dis-establish the Roman Catholic church should they ever again get into power. The Catholic press in this country is treating the item as if a great and scandalous plot had been uncovered. "Why should this not be?" asks one writer, "when Republican Spain has suffered more from the church than any other enemy. The Vatican, it is rumored, is hopeful that a Bourbon monarchy will take the place of the wobbling dictatio. Here let it be asked: 'Why do we have to employ medieval methods in this twentieth century?'"

"Rural Churchman"

The first religious weekly devoted entirely to the rural and village church is now being published at State College, Pa. One of the features of this new periodical is the "sermon of the week," and manuscripts of sermons preached in rural churches are being solicited.

New Baptist College

Baptists are planning to establish at Cleveland, Georgia, a new junior college. The college will be named after a Baptist leader in this area, George W. Truett. Nearly $400,000 has been pledged.

THE RAVING REPORTER

Overheard in the library:

Lois Scholten: "What is your book about, Johnson?"

Wayne Johnson: "Oh, about 200 pages."

After all Miss Washburn's efforts the following advertisement was found in a newspaper:

Wanted: Stenographer for special work. Prefer one who has no college education as the work will require correct spelling and punctuation, and the use of common sense.

Joanne: "Can you drive with one hand?"

Les Simmons: "You bet I can!"

Joanne: "Then have an apple."

A thing of beauty has joy rides forever, but we'd like to think it was the lack of beauty which caused the truck to be so stubborn returning from the Freshman S. S. picnic Saturday night. Could it be that Bob Lee forgot to turn on the key? Oh, Shirley that's it!

Jerry Johnson: "How long did it take you to learn to drive?"

Lexie Tait: "It will be ten years in September."

Letters have been received regularly from A Cappella members, but the most amusing incident of the day was when Rudy Klundt went through a red light while memorizing a letter from Esther.

We were quite encouraged to find that the Easter Bunny myth is still alive in the hearts of Gideon hall boys. Look closely girls, maybe they'll furnish a treasure hunt for us!

We could rave on and on into the night, but studies hasten us to nobler thoughts. Incidentally, if you're interested in knowing how many days of school are left, just ask Litsey, Tame or Nyberg. Bye now!

Room Reservations Predict No Student Shortage Next Year

"Judging from the present rate at which room reservations are coming in, there will not be a shortage of students at N. N. C. next year", stated Dr. Corlett recently.

The government housing units are attracting a number of veterans and many have put in their applications for these.

Dormitory rooms are being taken. Girls already enrolled will have first choice of the rooms. An exceptionally large number of girls have enrolled. All reservations should be paid soon if you want a good room.

College student reservations will be taken in preference to academy, but an attempt will be made to accommodate as many academy students as possible.

NEW BOOKS

By MISS G. MUMAU

James Hilton, an English author, who, since 1937 has made his home in the United States, has written several books worthy of note and of exceptional interest.

"Good-bye Mr. Chips," one of his first novels, adds a new personality to the world's gallery of best-loved characters.

"Random Harvest" has its setting in England; the theme is the years before the last war. Its leading characters are as appealing as Mr. Chips himself. There is no further description here, so that you may enjoy the full thrill of discovering Mr. Hilton's magic story telling and touching love story for yourself.

"The story of Dr. Wassell" is a true story of an American Navy doctor, who got his men out of Java through the turmoil of the Japanese invasion.

These books have been recently added to our library. Why not come in and select one for your reading pleasure?

Miss Wilma Hughell Is Speaker at F.T.A. Meet

"Guidance is a point of view. A teacher has it or she doesn't," stated Miss Wilma Hughell, who was guest speaker at the regular F.T.A. meeting held in Morrison Hall parlor, April 4.

Miss Hughell, who represents the guidance division of the state department of education, discussed the general topic of guidance. There are three steps in the guidance program, that of gaining information about the pupil, group counseling and individual guidance.

"Ladies Only"

In Spring a young man's fancy turns to love and a young lady's love turns to fancy—clothes!

So girls here's a few suggestions on how to be a slick chick or classy lassy or big stuff with a puff cuff.

No debutante's wardrobe color "scream" is complete without a sufficient supply of plaid shirts and shoe strings.

"Oh", the boys remark—"Look at those big broad shoulders," referring of course, to the fashionable girl of today who has more stuffing than a Thanksgiving Turkey when it comes to shoulder pads in the latest coat or dress. Speaking of dresses, most girls never know what kind of a dress they don't want until they buy it.

Anything tied around your hair goes now. Try borrowing your boy friend's flashy neck-tie and let the large end droop over your shoulder. No matter if you are dresstitute you can always have that well-groomed appearance by wearing your clothes and your hair neatly. The braided up-sweeps a few of the girls have been wearing are very sophisticated indeed and solve the problem of straggly locks that didn't get curled the night before.

The latest style on campus that a few can wear is that bright orange and black N. N. C. letter on a white sweater featured by Peggy. It's exclusive and something that will al-

SPORT SLANTS

By ORRIN HILLS

Baseball rises to the front among sports at N. N. C. The Intra-Mural program got off to a flying start last week when the SLA's and the LSP's defeated the ADP's and the Olympians respectively. The ADP's and Olympian girls counteracted the wins by defeating the SLA's and LSP's in return.

The ADP boys and girls both showed new spark and fire in their sport while the OLY's fell down in the boys division with four ball players on the bench. We hope to be at full strength within a week so don't count us out. Of course, the LSP's are still favored to cop the title.

With the LSP's taking first and the OLY's second in both Archery and Golf, that leaves only tennis for the minor sports to be played. There are many students learning to handle that old tennis racket that never could before or at least they've become a little better. The courts are full till dark every night the weather permits.

Our ball club smashed out a 6-3 victory over B.J.C. last Tuesday afternoon amid rain and sunshine. Our boys showed well in the field but weak at the plate. The reason for that could easily be explained through the fact that we don't play enough baseball.

It is too bad the film on Volleyball couldn't have been shown six weeks sooner and I am sure we would have seen a much better brand of ball played, but Monty did announce that the out-door volleyball court is ready to play on, so if you are interester in volleyball, you may check a ball from Monty or Professor Laughlin. Also they are trying to build a program here at N.N.C. whereby the students may find things to do during their leisure moments. They say that "Idle hands are the devil's work shop." Of course, this doesn't apply to students who love the bench so well they stay on most of the semester.

Sullivan Cards Game To Give LSP Golf Win

In the boys' golf tournament play-offs which took place Wednesday, April 10, Al Sullivan gave the LSP's first place as he carded a 41-41 to total 82 strokes for the 24 holes. The Olys took second as Don Bozarth took 48-47 in the two rounds. He shot 95. Jerry Palmer took third place for the ADP's with 103 as he shot 50-53. Wayne Johnson of the SLA's was beaten out by shooting 56-61 for a total of 107.

Handicapped Ball Team Wallops ADP

In the first intra-mural baseball game the SLA boys walloped the ADP's, 9-3 although they played the first few innings with only four players.

Sporleder pitched a good game for the winners to enable his team to hold the opponents down until reinforcements arrived. He was caught by Ranum, Thompson and Falmer pitched and Klundt and Thompson caught for the ADP's.

Students Receive Activity Letters

Students who have participated in various activities for the past two years and who have received enough points will receive their activity letters. Those who have already graduated will have their letters mailed to them.

Those having received their activity letters are the following: Peggy Oldfield, Orrin Hills, Verona Taves, Mary Harmon, Homer Clough, Ed. Dowd, Wanda Davis, Bob Tolbert, and Charlotte Edgar.

Letters yet to be given will go to Joyce Kincaid, Virginia Rickman, Bob Sporleder, Wanneta Jennings, Ardith Grover, and Howard Zimmerman.

Some students as yet have not turned in their complete record of activity points, leaving this list incomplete.

Batmen Defeat Broncs 6-3 On College Field Despite Idaho Rain

Despite liberal portions of "Idaho sunshine" which threatened to halt the game at many times, the N.N.C. Crusaders defeated the B. J. C. Broncs 6-3 in a contest played on the college field.

The Crusaders jumped on the Bronc hurler, in their first turn at bat and scored 4 runs as they batted around the complete lineup. The BJC team went to work on Vail and picked up single tallies in each of the next three innings to bring the score to 4-3. Then in the last of the fifth the BJC defense fell apart and the Crusaders scored two runs on a hit, two other bases, two errors, and an infield grounder. In the last two innings Vail set his opponents down without any damage to preserve his lead.

The batteries for the game were: BJC — Pitcher, Beebe, Buckner and Post.

N.N.C.—Vail and Thompson.

Toss Ups

By BETTE

I don't know why we have a girl's sports column because it seems like we never do anything and I never have a thing to write about.

The only thing that has happened in the way of sports is a softball game between the Olys and the LSPs. It was a close, good game and ended with a score of 8-7 in favor of the Olys.

It looks like the Olys will give the other three teams a "bad time" in soft ball. They've got a good team but not so good that the others can't beat them.

Since we're not doing much now in soft ball, why don't more girls turn out for the boy's baseball games? They're really good and they're as interesting as the crowd makes them. Come on, let's have a good turn out at the next game!!

Dedication To The "Cindermen"

By "ZIP"

"I just love track," I heard him say as he stumbled down the field, hit his shins on the first hurdle, slipped in a mud puddle, and finally landed up head first in the broad-jump pit. "It's such an interesting sport, it keeps one active."

Perhaps this won't happen to you, but it might. Track season has been going a little slow and needs to be speeded up. By that I don't mean to run faster. I simply imply that a few more fellows out for Track wouldn't hurt the field any.

That reminds me of the Negro track star down South, while he was running the mile one day, his identification ribbon flew off and he suddenly stopped, saundered back up the track, picked it up and put it on. After the race (which he won), the coach asked him if he wasn't a bit sure of himself in doing that. "Oh, no Boss, but you see there was a Rattle Snake under it when I picked it up." You won't find any Rattlers under your banners on the college track (I hope), but if that is what it will take to get you fellows out for sport, then I suggest we import about 10 Diamond-Backs.

Monty says that track's fun, and I'm dumb enough to believe him, here's hoping you are. There are many events you can enter: High and low hurdles, pole vault, 100 yard dash, 330 yard dash, 440, possibly the 880, broad-jump, high-jump, shot-put, javelin, discus, and relay and mile runs.

If you're a cinderman at all, your hearty support will be appreciated. Of course I would suggest that you put on your oldest pants in practice—might get bunged up you know. Cheer up the Red Cross is still functioning!

Big Crowd Sees Speech Club Drama

Before a capacity crowd, the Spenserian Speech club of N. N. C. presented their annual drama "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", in the college auditorium, April 5, at 8 p. m.

A number of persons expressed wishes for the re-presentation of the play, but since it is not the policy of N.N.C. to stress dramatics, it will be impossible.

Mr. Alfred Sullivan, assistant to Professor Wilson, head of the department of speech, directed the play and when interviewed by a reporter said, "As far as I am concerned, the play was a success. I wish to thank the members of the cast for their cooperation in the presentation of the play and for the excellent interpretation of their respective characters."

Thirty Persons Visit Campus On Planned Founder's Day

The originally planned Founder's Day program, which was to have been an event of April 5, found a few parties visiting the campus. All told there were about thirty persons.
